

Job Description

Job ID	201401002
Position	Senior Software Engineer (Web Application Development)
Reporting to	Manager of Engineering
Location	Pune, Maharashtra, INDIA

Overview

Leap & Scale Growth Partners (LSGP) has an exciting opportunity for a talented web application engineer in the Technology & Engineering Services - Software. LSGP is building a web application development team for providing product development services in the field of Location Based Services across technologies and platforms.

Role and Responsibilities

- Design, Development and Test high quality web applications
- Be an effective and efficient member of the agile team and apply your design, development and test skills. Able to work independently
- Taking the technical ownership and responsibility of design, development and test of new web applications. In addition take the responsibility for existing web applications.
- Responsible for analysis of requirements of features including the technical and UI requirements
- Responsible for required and necessary documentation for design, testing, deployment, test and maintenance of web applications
- Provide the required reports, data and information on a regular basis to supervisor
- Following processes and standards prescribed from time to time for building high quality products
- Providing regular feedback and participate in Continual Improvement processes
- Be an integral part of a team responsible for design and development of applications across technologies and platforms

Qualifications

- Degree in Computer Science/Software Engineering/Information Technology [Bachelors or Masters in Engineering or Technology/Masters in Science/Applications in Software]
- Solid understanding of MVC frameworks and distributed application design
- Strong understanding and knowledge of software fundamentals – OOAD, data structures, algorithms, architecture and design patterns and test techniques
- Strong analytical, programming and debugging skills
- Has exposure to best practices, tools and technologies
- Good at JavaScript, PHP, Java, HTML5, CSS and MySQL
- Good understanding of SQL Databases
- Experience of working on server-side and scripting languages (PHP, Java)
- Ability to learn and adapt to new work processes and environments
- Demonstrated experience for applying of knowledge and concepts for minimum of 3 to 6 years
- Good Communication skills (technical, business and verbal)
- Excellent understanding of working of mobile and web technologies is a plus
- Knowledge of Location Based Services and Applications is a plus
- Knowledge of cross-browser implementation is a plus
- Knowledge and Experience with one or more Mapping API for maps, navigation and routing is a plus

Disclaimer: The above statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work being performed by personnel assigned to the classification. This must not be construed as an exhaustive list of responsibilities, duties and skills required of the employees so classified.

About Leap & Scale

Leap & Scale Growth Partners Private Limited is a new set-up promoted and backed by professionals and leaders from industry with decades of experience in Engineering and Technology. It is being built as a multifaceted company for being a catalyst, enabler and service provider for its customers in India and overseas, through expertise in Product Development, Technology, Engineering, Research and Innovation

For more information, please review our Corporate Overview Note, visit us at www.leapscale.co.in or write to us on info@leapscale.co.in